Zadanie 1.

Tekst 1.

Man: Look, Mary! Isn't it that famous actor we saw in the film last night?

Woman: The man with sunglasses?

Man: That's his bodyguard! The actor has a beard and a moustache. Can't you see?

Woman: Oh, yes! I like his long hair!

Tekst 2.

Woman: Maggie, this is Christine. Why are you never at home? I hate speaking to this machine. I'm calling to see if you're free on Friday night. I've got two tickets for "The Adventures in Cape City", you know, that American movie. My sister's going to a concert and Michael says he prefers the theatre. So I was wondering if you'd like to go with me. Call me back.

Tekst 3.

Woman: Have you been to that new pizzeria, Mike?

Man: No, I haven't. Why?

Woman: I was there yesterday and it's a really nice place.

Man: Is the pizza good?

Woman: I didn't have pizza, actually. They have lots of other dishes on the menu.

Man: Don't tell me that you had a hamburger in an Italian restaurant!

Woman: No. I had spaghetti.

Man: Was it good?

Woman: Yes, but next time I'll try a vegetarian pizza.

Tekst 4.

Man: Did you go shopping yesterday?

Woman: Yes, I did. I bought some CDs and an audiobook. I was so tired when I came back home that I went straight to bed. I didn't even do the book report for today.

Man: I didn't do it, either. I went to the swimming pool in the evening.

Woman: Look! Mrs Brown's coming. Let's go to the classroom.

Man: I hope there won't be time to read the reports.

Woman: Shhh... Maybe she forgot about them.

Tekst 5.

Man: A 13-year-old girl from Texas, Maggie Wilson, is the winner of a new competition for high school students. In the competition Maggie didn't write an excellent essay or a long poem; she was the quickest at sending text messages. Maggie was better than 200 other students who took part in the US Texting Competition organised last Saturday in New York.

Zadanie 2.

Man: Hi, Kelly! What's up?

Woman: Hello, Nick. Nothing much.

Man: Listen, Kelly, would you like to go out on Monday?

Woman: Oh, sorry. I can't. I'm looking after my neighbours' son then. They are going to a jazz concert and I've promised to help them.

Man: Oh, I see... How about Tuesday?

Woman: Sorry, I can't go then, either. You see, I have to collect my sister after her singing lesson and in the evening I have a dance class in the club.

Man: I won't ask about Thursday. I remember you have painting lessons then.

Woman: No, actually, I don't. Now the painting course is on Wednesdays and we have lessons in the art gallery or, if the weather's fine, we paint in the open air.

Man: Great! So you're free on Thursday evening. But, wait...Have you finished your science project? You have to do it by Friday.

Woman: The project? Oh, no! I completely forgot about it. I'll have to spend the whole evening doing it.

Man: Don't worry. We'll meet at 5 on Thursday and I'll help you with your project. How's that?

Woman: Oh, that would be great! Thanks.

Zadanie 3.

Woman: Attention all 3rd grade students! I have very important news! For the first time in our school's history, we will have a student band at our school party. The band will play for about one hour and then we're going to have the usual DJ music for the rest of the dance. One ticket costs £5. If you bring your friends from other schools, they pay the same price. The tickets can be bought at the door to the school canteen half an hour before the party. Don't miss the chance to see your friends playing musical instruments. See you on the dance floor on Friday!
